Rationale

With changes in healthcare payments to hospitals and other providers generated by passage of the Affordable Care Act (ACA), and with recognized best practices in mind, there is a strong need for educational opportunities that will help nurses gain a Master's of Science in Nursing (Family Nurse Practitioner track) to improve access to healthcare. Reimbursements of hospitals and clinics for patient care now provide significant incentives and penalties that promote decreased admissions and readmissions. To conform to this new environment, hospitals recognize that they need to increase primary care services, to include health promotion and disease prevention in the community. These goals require an increase in the presence of primary care providers locally, state-wide and nationwide. However, there is currently a recognized shortage of primary care providers because primary care practices receive lower reimbursement rates than specialty practices. Within the Fredericksburg area alone, Mary Washington Healthcare (MWHC) estimates that at least 90 additional family practice providers are needed to manage care in the community.

In the spring of 2016 MWHC approached UMW seeking collaboration in building an MSN program for Advanced-Practice Family Nurse Practitioners. UMW and MWHC created a planning group which has met regularly for five months. The planning committee developed a request for funding from the Mary Washington Hospital Foundation, which included start-up costs and guaranteed tuition costs for MWHC's qualified, BSN-prepared registered nurses (RNs). In total, the UMW MSN-FNP Program will be supported with $1.4 million of funds from the MWH Foundation.

CCNE, the accreditation body of the UMW BSN Completion Program, requires the educational component of the MSN-FNP track be developed by a nationally-certified Family Nurse Practitioner. The MWH Foundation provided funding for the consultation services of Dr. Micah Alderman Scott to develop this course proposal. She is a PhD, FNP-BC, Assistant Professor, and Interim FNP Program Coordinator at the University of North Carolina's School of Nursing. Dr. Scott's previous position was the FNP Program Coordinator at Old Dominion University.

This course has been created at the request of the Dean of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences and the Provost as part of the proposed MSN-FNP program. The MSN-FNP curriculum will include 18 courses (one existing course and 17 new courses). The seven-semester curriculum will consist of 46 credits. This course is #9 of 17 newly proposed courses for the program. Combined, the 18 MSN-FNP courses meet the requirements of:

- The Essentials of Master's Education in Nursing (American Association of Colleges of Nursing [AACN], 2011);
- Criteria for Evaluation of Nurse Practitioner Programs, 5th Ed. (National Task Force on Quality NP Education (2016); and
- Family/Across the Lifespan Population-Focused Nurse Practitioner Competencies (AACN, Population-Focused Competencies Task Force, 2013).

Credit Hour Justification

This course will be offered during the summer semester and has a minimum of 42 contact hours of online activity. The weekly modules will be designed to deliver course content over 10 weeks at 210 minutes per week. Students are expected to have a minimum of two hours of outside-of-class responsibility (homework, assigned projects, class preparation, writing assignments, etc.) for each credit hour.

Impact Statement

The proposed MSN program will enroll 15 students each January. The students will progress in a cohort manner, through a 46-credit curriculum over 27 months. The program will generate significant additional tuition revenue, which will cover the cost of an adjunct nursing faculty member. The President and the Provost have stated a commitment to cover costs necessary to bring the new degree program to UMW. Additional space is not needed for this online course. Additional library resources are estimated to be $40,000 for the MSN-FNP program as a whole. This specific course does not add to that cost. The Executive Director of the Division of Teaching and Learning Technologies (Jesse Stommel) has met with the BSN-C Program Director and proposed additional online learning resources for faculty and students. At the date of this proposal, both Rosemary Arneson and Jesse Stommel are completing an impact assessment to determine the additional funding required by their departments.

Course Description

This course focuses on advanced nursing practice of women in diverse populations. It is designed to prepare the family nurse practitioner student to become a provider of women’s health care in the primary care setting. Students will also examine the trends and issues in women’s health specific to culture and health care resources.

Method of Instruction

Recognizing the diverse learning styles present in any group of students, a variety of instructional techniques will be used to encourage learning. Examples include the following teaching-learning strategies:

- Required readings
- Online lectures
- Guest lectures
- Videos

Required Textbook(s)

- Hackley, B.J. & Kriebs. J.M. (2017). Primary Care of Women. Burlington, MA: Jones & Bartlett

Required Software

- General software: MS Office or Open Office, Adobe Acrobat Reader, and Windows Media Player
- APA software: Perla or ReferencePoint

Expectations

The course is managed through Canvas, which is the learning management system (LMS) used by UMW. All course content is available on the course’s Canvas page. Students are expected to log into the course page every one-three days to ensure prompt communication with the instructor and peers.

All assignments, homework, readings and activities will be posted on the Canvas page. Students are expected to use the course Canvas page to upload all graded assignments to ensure correct grading because grading is done through the LMS.

- The week starts on Monday at 12:00am ET and ends Sunday at 11:59pm ET.
- Students’ assignments must be uploaded to Canvas by SUNDAY at 11:59 pm ET.

- Late submissions will receive a 0 grade.

The instructor will use grading rubrics for all graded assignments and exams. ALWAYS follow the grading rubric. It is recommended that you perform a “self-grading” exercise using the grading rubric prior to submitting your assignment to the instructor.

Students are expected to do their own, original work on each assignment. A plagiarized assignment will result in a zero (0) for the assignment. The student will be referred to the Honor Counsel.

Communication with Faculty

It is your responsibility to keep the instructor up-to-date on your progress and any problems, concerns or questions you have. You may contact the faculty by way of the message function in Canvas (preferred), UMW e-mail or by office phone (voice mail, leave a reliable phone number and time that is good to contact you). If you have left a message and the faculty member has not returned your call or email within 72 hours, then contact the nursing program (Missy Hall, administrative assistant, at 540.286.8084). The course faculty will notify you if they are going to be out-of-town or unavailable for a period of time. Check your UMW email and Canvas on a daily basis.

Attendance/Participation and Make-Up Policy

Students are expected to participate in all assignments during the designated timeframe. Should an absence be necessary, the student is responsible for the material covered during the absence. Excessive absences make it almost impossible for a student to meet the academic objectives of a course and frequently cause a student to receive a lower grade, even though the absence may be unavoidable.

This is a hybrid online course, which means that there are one or more on-campus classes that you must attend during the semester. It is expected that you will participate in both online and on-campus classes as scheduled. Likewise, it is expected that you will carefully review this syllabus and familiarize yourself with all of the requirements and expectations for the course.

It is important for students to turn in assignments by the established due dates. If a student is going to be unable to complete an assignment by the due date, the student must contact the instructor prior to the assignment due date. Together, the instructor and student will determine the details of completing the assignment.

Course Topics and Schedule

1. Historical factors influencing women’s health
2. Growth, development, and assessment of adolescent, adult and older women
3. Health promotion and wellness in women
4. Diagnostic screening tests
5. Common gynecological problems and breast disorders
6. The menstrual cycle, related problems, fertility and infertility
7. Midlife, menopause and hormone replacement therapy
8. Pregnancy: Pre-pregnancy, prenatal and postpartum care
9. Common medical problems of women
10. Mental health issues in women

As this is an online/hybrid course, the delivery of content and related activities is organized by units. Sometimes activities for a given unit will be concentrated in a single week, and at other times a unit may span over two or more weeks. The length of time for each content unit depends on the complexity of the material and number/variety of activities in which students must engage. Please refer to other sections in this course syllabus and the Canvas course site for a detailed schedule which includes learning objectives and reading assignments.

Student Deliverables for this Course

DUE DATE	DELIVERABLE	MAX . SCORE
	Exam #1—Menstrual cycle, infertility, contraception	20%
	Exam #2 – STDs, gynecological problems, cytology	20%
	Exam #3 – Pregnancy, menopause	20%
	Exam #4 – Psychosocial, medical, breast health	20%
	Discussion board case study	20%
		100.00%

Exams will be posted on Canvas. There will be four multiple choice exams with approximately 50 questions each. Students must be able to apply concepts, theories, and knowledge of women's health in answering the questions. Information and instructions for taking the tests will be posted separately before the exams. If you are unable to take an exam for any reason, you must notify the instructor 24 hours in advance of the exam availability. Failure to do so will result in an automatic zero. Students may use their books and notes for the exams; however the exams must be done independently.

Discussion Board Rubric

Your work on the discussion board includes regular threaded discussions and activities. Interaction on the discussion board will be monitored throughout the week. An initial posting is due by Thursday at 11:55pm ET. You will respond to two of your peers by Sunday at 11:59pm ET.

For the case study, you will choose a scenario and identify one health issue for the patient. You will discuss a research article about the prevalence, significance or an intervention for problem. In addition, you will identify a resource in your community that could be a resource for a patient with a similar problem.

You will also respond to a post from a peer and will share the findings from another study that will increase the students' knowledge about the topic.

All discussion board assignments are graded with the following rubric:

Discussions
Proficient – Well-developed (about two fully developed paragraphs); answers the questions asked; introduces new ideas; incorporates readings; responses to colleagues are articulate; specific references made to course content that indicate an understanding and synthesis of key principles under study; reflect critical thinking		5
Basic – Primary ideas are posted; organization of ideas is weak; responses to colleagues as required, but support is weak, vague or largely conjecture		4
Minimal/Below Average – Poorly developed, does not add to the discussion; misses the questions; late work ; responses to colleagues, but support is lacking and response is based on conjecture with no reference made to readings or coursework		3
Unacceptable		1
Failure to Submit		0

ONLINE EDUCATION AND LIBERAL ARTS VALUES AT UMW

One of the hallmarks of online courses at UMW is that they embody the values of a quality liberal arts curriculum. These values are community, interactivity, active learning, reflection and self-directed learning.

Value 1: Community

Within a liberal arts institution, we believe that learning needs to occur as a social activity and that students should develop a strong sense of belonging to a networked learning community. Learning communities serve many important purposes: They support and sustain the work of individual learners, help to frame the work of individuals within larger intellectual conversations, and offer a possibility of building something greater through collaboration.

Value 2: Interactivity

One of the signal characteristics of the quality learning experience is small class size and what it enables: a high degree of interaction between student and instructor, as well as between the student and other students. Sometimes characterized as “high-touch,” this interaction leads to highly personalized instruction in which students are treated as individuals rather than part of a collective who sink or swim largely on their own efforts.

Value 3: Active Learning

Another characteristic of quality education is an emphasis on active (rather than passive) learning, including intensive use of writing and speech, as both tools of analysis and communication. Active learning leads to a focus on critical thinking rather than merely memorization. Another example is activities that engender genuine inquiry by students in real issues/problems, problems that matter to people outside the classroom, as well as exploring and being challenged by diverse perspectives.

Value 4: Reflection

Part of the justification for the study of humanities in liberal education is that such study addresses the human yearning for meaning. However, such reflection is not limited to humanities. The question, “What does it mean?” is an important means of transforming learning from passive to active, from memorization to a deeper understanding.

Value 5: Self-Directed Learning

The successful learner is expected to take ownership of his or her learning experiences. While faculty play a critical role in framing, guiding and, sometimes, directing the path of these experiences, ultimately the learner must be able to rely on his or her own self to make intellectual choices. These skills lay the foundation for lifelong, adaptive learning as well as cultivating intellectual curiosity, creativity, flexibility and self-discipline.

UMW STUDENT RESOURCES

Libraries

Students are encouraged to use the library resources throughout the course of their study. The Stafford campus includes the Stafford Library in building 121. In addition, the Fredericksburg campus offers the Simpson Library. Both libraries have open conversation areas and comfortable seating which provide a welcoming environment for individual and group study, and networked computers with access to the internet, the University network and Microsoft Office software. The library staff are available to provide assistance to groups and individuals.

Writing Center

Students are encouraged to use the Writing Center, located within the Hurley Convergence Center (HCC) on the Fredericksburg campus. Operating within the Honor Code, the Center offers free tutorial assistance to students regardless of major or concentration, both for course assignments and for personal writing needs.

The Writing Center personnel work with student writers at every skill level to improve writing performance. Staffed by faculty directors, assistants and well-trained student tutors, the Center provides advice in getting started on papers, developing ideas, achieving unity and coherence, reviewing troublesome parts of papers, learning writing styles such as APA, understanding and correcting recurring grammatical and punctuation errors, and overcoming writer's block. They also provide access to various writing guides.

Speaking Center

The Speaking Center is located on the Fredericksburg campus, and supports the speaking-intensive program by providing free consultations to students interested in developing oral communication skills. The Center houses a collection of instructional resources (books, handouts, videotapes, equipment) which address a variety of topics ranging from public speaking anxiety to constructing effective visual aids. Consultants are available to videotape practice presentations and to provide feedback.

The Center strictly adheres to the Honor Code: Consultants will not compose any portion of a presentation for a student, nor will they do research for a student's presentation. Consultants are also prepared to offer advice on special types of oral communication activities such as speeches, group presentations, debates and interviews.

IT Support

In addition to resources available at its website (<http://technology.umw.edu/about-us/>), the IT office provides help through the Help Desk. The Help Desk serves as the clearinghouse for all tech-related issues. (Please do not ask the MSN instructors or staff for technical assistance...we're not IT experts.) For any type of technology-related issues, students must contact the Help Desk by telephone at (540) 654-2255 or by email at helpdesk@umw.edu or via their webpage (http://technology.umw.edu/helpdesk/getting_help/).

COMPUTER SPECIFICATIONS

For technical assistance, incoming students should visit the Help Desk's webpage for new students at <http://technology.umw.edu/new/students/>. The below hardware and software specifications are recommended for online courses:

Processor	1.2 GHz or greater
RAM	250 MB or greater (512 MB suggested)
Display	Color video display card Color monitor with 1280x1024 resolution or greater
Sound	Sound card, speakers & microphone (or a microphone/speaker headset)
Operating System	Windows 98, ME, 2000, XP or Vista (Mac OS 9.2 or higher for all Macintosh computers)

For online courses, the student must have:

- Speaker and microphone on the computer (or a microphone/speaker headset)
- Broadband internet connection (check with your service provider for what speeds are available in your area (examples: Cable, DSL, fiber optic, satellite, etc.)
- Internet Explorer 6.0 or later (later versions of Netscape also work) or Firefox
- General software: MS Office or Open Office, Adobe Acrobat Reader, and Windows Media Player
- APA software: Perla or ReferencePoint
- Exam software: Respondus

ONLINE ETIQUETTE

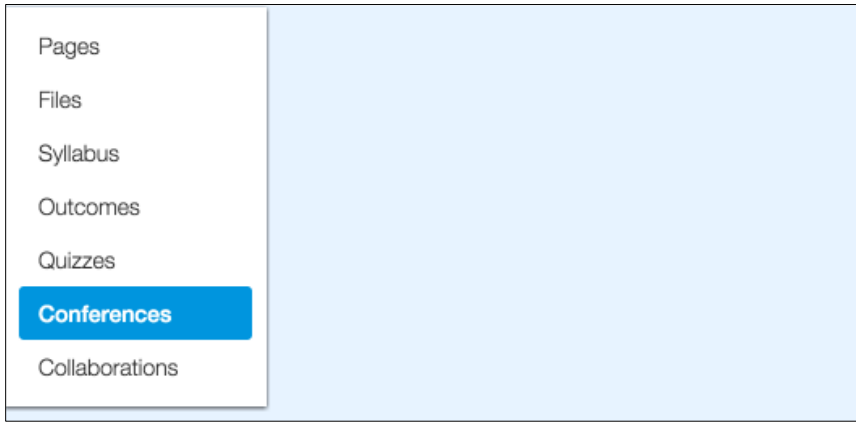

The following guidance is paraphrased from one found on the Kent State University website (<http://www.kent.edu/dl/technology/etiquette.cfm>): Taking an online course and corresponding via the WWW presents one with the task of overcoming the lack of non-verbals in communication. When taking a course online, it's important to remember some etiquette that will smooth communication between the students and instructors.

1. Avoid language that may come across as strong or offensive. Language can be easily misinterpreted in written communication. If a point must be stressed, review the statement to ensure that an outsider reading it would not be offended, and then post the statement. Humor and sarcasm may easily be misinterpreted as well, so try to be as matter-of-fact and professional as possible.
2. Keep writing to a point and stay on-topic. Online courses require a lot of reading. When writing, keep sentences poignant and brief so readers do not get lost in wordy paragraphs and miss the point of the statement. Also, don't introduce new topics; it may just confuse the readers.
3. Read first, write later. To prevent repeating commentary that has already been stated, or asking questions that have already been answered, it is important to read all posts and comments within the course discussion before commenting yourself.
4. Review, review, review...and then send. There's no taking back a comment once it has been sent, so it's important to double-check all writing to ensure it clearly conveys the exact intended message.
5. An online classroom is still a classroom. Though the course may be online, appropriate classroom behavior is still necessary. Respect for fellow students and instructors is as important as ever.
6. The language of the internet: Though still a fairly young type of communication, certain aspects of online communication are becoming conventional. For example, do not write using all capital letters, because it appears as shouting. Also, the use of emoticons can be helpful when used to convey nonverbal feelings, but overuse should be avoided. Examples of emoticons: ☺, ☹, ♥
7. Consider the privacy of others. Ask permission before giving out a classmate's email address or other information.
8. If possible, keep attachments small. If it's necessary to send photos, change the size to 100k or smaller.
9. No inappropriate material is permitted. Do not forward virus warnings, chain letters, jokes, etc., to classmates or instructors. The sharing of pornographic material is forbidden."

USING THE BIG BLUE BUTTON IN CANVAS FOR CONFERENCING IN AN ONLINE COURSE

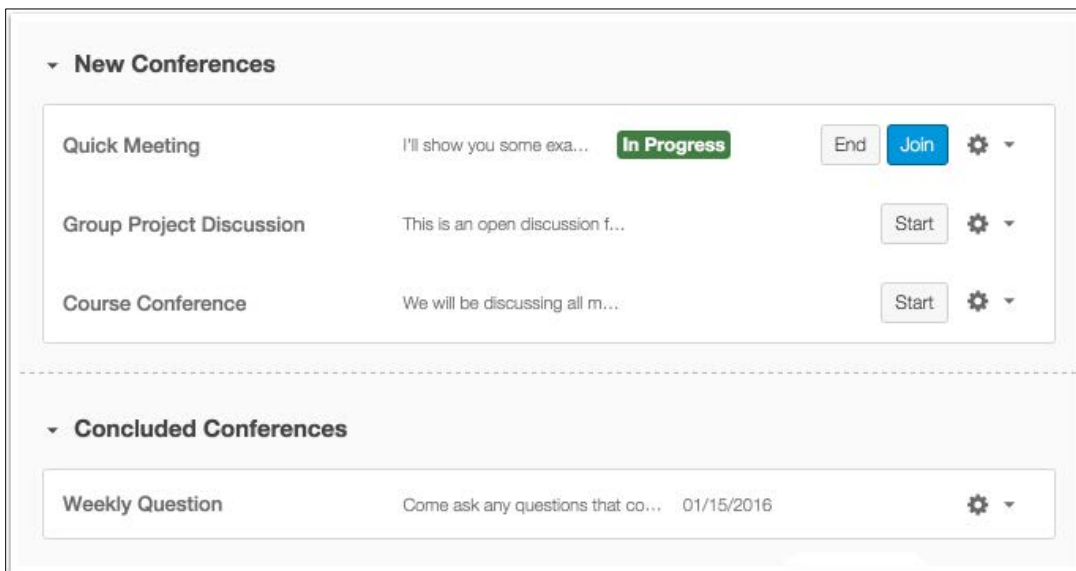

What are Conferences in Canvas?

The Conferences feature is primarily used for virtual lectures, virtual office hours and student groups. It can also be used to demonstrate technologies or troubleshoot technology issues online. Conferences can accommodate up to 50 people.

The Conferences feature makes it easy to conduct synchronous (real-time) lectures for all of the students in the course. It also allows the instructor to broadcast real-time audio and video. Additionally, it allows the instructor to demo on applications on the computer desktop, to share presentation slides, or demo any online resources. Currently, Canvas integrates via the Big Blue Button.

NOTE: The Big Blue Button can accommodate up to 50 users in a conference at any given moment. A conference will remain active on the Big Blue Button as long as at least one person is logged into the conference room. When the last person exits, the conference will automatically conclude and all files and chats will be removed.

When would I use Conferences?

The instructor can use Conferences to:

- Connect with course students for online office hours, live presentations or special study sessions

- Practice presenting online (students can set up practice presentations in their student groups)
- Broadcast a live event or lecture to students who can't be on-site
- Record the conferences so students can view them at a later date (Note: recordings are automatically deleted 14 days after the conference ends)

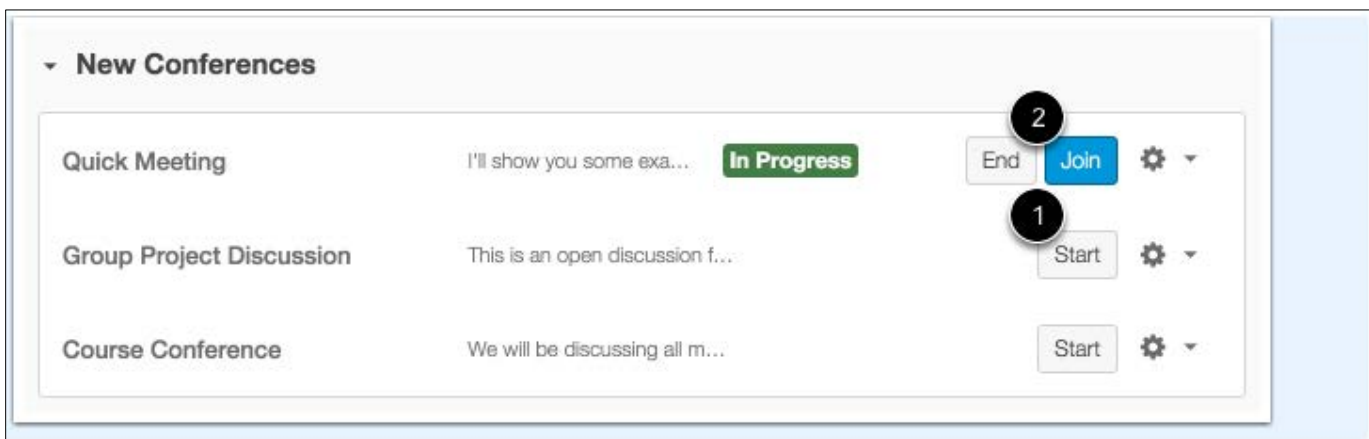

How do I use the Conferences Index Page (see graphic below)?

Conferences are grouped in two parts: New Conferences [1] and Concluded Conferences [2]. Both always display the name [3] and description [4] of the conference. Note: Students can only view conferences to which they have been invited.

New Conferences (see graphic below)

New Conferences are either ready to start [1] or in progress [2] where invited participants can join. Note: Students cannot join a conference until the instructor has started it.

Concluded Conferences (see graphic below)

Once a conference has ended, it will be displayed in Concluded Conferences and show the date of the conference [1].

For recorded conferences, Canvas will display the length of the conference [2], which is indicated in hours:minutes (e.g., 0:10 is 10 minutes).

When a conference is rendered for playback, the conference displays the View button [3]. Depending on the length of the conference, this process may take several hours. Note: Recordings are automatically deleted 14 days after the conference ends.

The screenshot shows a list of concluded conferences. The first conference, 'Group Project Discussion', is highlighted. Three callouts are present: '1' points to the date '01/15/2016', '2' points to the recording duration '0:10', and '3' points to the 'View' button. The other two conferences, 'Quick Meeting' and 'Weekly Question', are listed below.

UNIVERSITY NOTICES

University Closures

If the University is closed on a regularly scheduled day, MSN courses will continue as scheduled online.

Disability Directive

The Office of Disability Services has been designated by the University as the primary office to guide, counsel and assist students with disabilities. If you already receive services through the disability office and require accommodations for this class, make an appointment with me (the instructor) as soon as possible to discuss your approved accommodation needs. Please bring your accommodation letter to our appointment. Any information you share will be held in the strictest confidence unless you have granted me permission to do otherwise.

If you have not contacted the Office of Disability Services and need accommodations, such as note-taking assistance, extended time for tests, and so on, a referral can be made. The disability office will require appropriate documentation of disability. For details, please contact them at (540) 654-1266.

To protect student privacy and confidentiality, students do not have to inform their instructor directly of the nature of a disability. Once the student has been approved by the disability office for accommodations, the student will receive a letter detailing the exact nature of the accommodations. Copies of the letter should be given by the student to each instructor. The instructor is not told the nature of the disability; we are informed only of the needed classroom accommodation.

Sexual Assault Prevention

Sexual harassment in education includes any unwanted and unwelcomed sexual behavior which significantly interferes with an individual's access to educational opportunities. The University of Mary Washington is committed to preventing and addressing harassment, regardless of whether the harassment is perpetrated by peers, teachers or other school officials. Confidential support services are provided by:

Honor Code

Students are required to read the Honor Constitution and sign the Honor Code statement (attached at end of syllabus). The Honor Code and the Honor Pledge embody the trust placed in UMW students and the reciprocal responsibility students have to behave ethically in their academic pursuits. Additionally, students are responsible for adhering to the policies outlined in the Code of Student Conduct and the Graduate Student Handbook. Violations of the Code of Student Conduct will not be tolerated. Violations of this code include (but are not limited to) cheating on tests/assignments. For complete details on our expectations of you as a UMW student, please visit the following websites and carefully review the guidelines/policies:

- Honor Constitution: <http://students.umw.edu/staffordhonorcouncil/>
- Code of Student Conduct: <http://students.umw.edu/judicialaffairs/the-judicial-system/code-of-conduct/>
- Graduate Student Handbook: link needed

Some examples of Honor Code violations are:

- Lying, cheating*, plagiarism
- Team collaboration on a project, except when specifically authorized by the instructor (you are expected to do your own work, unaided by anyone else)

- Use of commercial sources or other students for “ready-made papers” (your work must clearly be of your own original effort) – don’t believe that by changing a few words you can disguise the source...you can’t – if you use someone else’s work you will be found out because the difference in tone, style and comprehensiveness of the writing will be readily apparent to the instructors
- Failing to cite reference materials used within your paper/work (this includes not only printed material but also materials taken in part or in whole from internet sources)
- Use of “crib sheets,” etc., during an examination – although some instructors allow the use of reference materials during exams, such use will always be clearly specified in the course syllabus (if such permission is not clearly set out in the syllabus, then you are not authorized to use reference materials during exams; also, if you exceed the clearly specified scope of authorization, then you are guilty of cheating)

*Examples of cheating: Taking an exam for someone else; reproducing/copying or discussing exam content; faking an illness to avoid an exam; copying from another student’s exam or assignment; giving another student answers during an exam; reviewing previous copies of an exam without the permission of the instructor; purchasing term papers; copying materials without footnoting or citing; padding items on a bibliography; turning in a dry lab report; failing to report grade errors; collaborating on or discussing homework and/or taking home exams/papers; plagiarism; altering or forging an official university document; swapping of computer programming disks/USBs.

Course Evaluations

This course requires that the student complete a course evaluation. Approximately three weeks before the semester ends, students will receive an email notice containing directions for accessing and completing the online evaluation. Submission of the evaluation is anonymous, and every effort should be made to provide feedback on the quality of the instruction received and the effectiveness of the faculty. Student feedback is critical to the ongoing health of the MSN program, and is greatly appreciated.

Course Summaries

A student course summary form will be used by faculty to obtain feedback from you on the components of the course and its delivery; it is an evaluation not of the faculty, but of the course. A link to complete this anonymous online summary will be posted in the Canvas course site, where instructions for completion/submission will be provided.

STUDENT HONOR CODE

I, as a student of the University of Mary Washington, do hereby accept the Honor System. I have read and understand the Honor Constitution and agree to abide by its provisions. Accordingly, I resolve to refrain from giving or receiving academic material in a manner not authorized by the instructor, from illegally appropriating the property of others, and from deliberately falsifying facts. I acknowledge that in support of the Honor System, it is my responsibility to report any violation of the Honor Code of which I am aware. I realize that in the event of a violation of the Honor Code, a plea of ignorance will not be acceptable and that such a violation could result in my permanent dismissal from the University of Mary Washington. I further pledge that I shall endeavor at all times to create a spirit of honor, both by upholding the Honor System myself and helping others to do so.
