JUSTIFICATION (including impact on majors, minors, concentrations, and general education courses within the University curriculum; attach additional pages if required)

We are removing the offering of private instruction in baritone from the trombone course number and description. Because the baritone is a valve instrument, it is inappropriately placed in the trombone studio; moving it to the tuba studio is a stronger alignment. At the same time, we are choosing to use the instrument name “euphonium.” While technically separate instruments, euphonium is the standard descriptor in music schools that denotes instruction in both baritone and euphonium.

TRANSITION PLAN (describe how will students who are in Catalogs where the course is required for a major be accommodated; attach additional pages if required)
