JUSTIFICATION (including impact on majors, minors, concentrations, and general education courses within the University curriculum; attach additional pages if required)

This corrects a change from the general experiential learning course description to a specific experiential learning course that was made in error. La Ceiba is 490a. Economics also has other experiential learning courses that are 490b, 490c, etc. The general 490 course description was erroneously replaced with the specific course description fro 490a last year.
