Current Catalog Entry
Prerequisites: CPSC 125 and CPSC 240 or 340. A survey of current artificial intelligence topics including informed search, knowledge representation, knowledge-based systems, and machine learning. Other topics such as image processing, robotics, and language processing, may also be covered. Artificial intelligence programming projects are required.

Proposed Catalog Entry
Prerequisites: CPSC 125 and CPSC 240. A survey of current artificial intelligence topics including informed search, knowledge representation, knowledge-based systems, and machine learning. Other topics such as image processing, robotics, and language processing, may also be covered. Artificial intelligence programming projects are required.

JUSTIFICATION (including impact on majors, minors, concentrations, and general education courses within the University curriculum; attach additional pages if required). Any change that impacts another Department must have a written statement (such as a copy of an email) from the Chair(s) agreeing to the change.

This change is to remove the option to take 340 instead of 125 and 240. This option was in place to simplify a the transition of previous curriculum change, but is not needed any more. 340 requires both 125 and 240, so that option is redundant.

TRANSITION PLAN (describe how will students who are in Catalogs where the course is required for a major be accommodated; attach additional pages if required)
There is no transition plan needed. Any student with CPSC 340 must have taken CPSC 240 and 125 already.
