JUSTIFICATION (including impact on majors, minors, concentrations, and general education courses within the University curriculum; attach additional pages if required)

The current catalog specifies that to take the course, a student must be a “business administration major” or have “permission of the Associate Dean for Faculty.” First, the COB now has multiple majors, not just “business administration”, so this language is outdated. Second, the new Financial and Quantitative Analysis minor requires FINC 301, so students completing this minor need to have the ability to take the course if they are not College of Business majors.

TRANSITION PLAN (describe how will students who are in Catalogs where the course is required for a major be accommodated; attach additional pages if required)

There is no need to transition. This change will result in students being able to take FINC 301 if they wish to complete the Financial and Quantitative Analysis minor, but are not majors in the College of Business.
