JUSTIFICATION (including impact on majors, minors, concentrations, and general education courses within the University curriculum; attach additional pages if required)

BIOL 302-Developmental Biology is one of the Research Intensive courses offered by the Department of Biological Sciences. All students declaring the major must take one RI designated course. BIOL 260-The Research process will give the students the tools to be successful in the research component of BIOL 302. In addition, BIOL 260-The Research Process is also required by the major and will normally be taken before or at the same time that students complete the other prerequisites. It will not affect the Biology minor because BIOL 302 is an elective course, and students have other courses they can choose from. The change in BIOL 302 will not affect other minors or Gen Eds because BIOL 302 does not fulfill requirements in other minors or the Gen Ed program.

TRANSITION PLAN (describe how will students who are in Catalogs where the course is required for a major be accommodated; attach additional pages if required)

Students who are declared under the old Biology major will have this pre-requisite waived.
